WILLIAM BING has been Director of Instrumental Music at Caltech for fifteen years. During this time, the program has grown from having only 25 students to almost one hundred students this year. In addition to his duties at Caltech, this year Mr. Bing will be a guest instructor at the University of Southern California. He is also on the faculties at Cal State University Northridge, Cal State Los Angeles, and Occidental College. He has performed with the Los Angeles Chamber Orchestra, the Los Angeles Philharmonic, the Detroit Symphony, and the Los Angeles Opera Association.

JIM SELF is a Los Angeles free-lance musician. For the past ten years he has worked for all the major Hollywood studios performing for hundreds of motion pictures, television shows, and records. His tuba playing is the Voice of the Mothership in John William's score to Close Encounters of the Third Kind and he has recorded with the Los Angeles Philharmonic, Frank Sinatra, Don Ellis, and Weird Al Yankovic, among others.

For three years he was voted the Most Valuable Player for Tuba by the National Association of Recording Arts and Sciences. In addition to studio work, he also holds principle tuba positions in the Pasadena Symphony and the American Ballet Theatre/Los Angeles.

In 1983 he produced his first Album, Jim Self Quintet: Children at Play, on Discovery Records. It features jazz tuba and harmonica and has received worldwide critical acclaim as one of the top ten jazz albums of 1983.

Jim is a former member of The United States Army Band, out of Washington D.C. He holds degrees from Indiana State, University of Pennsylvania, Catholic University, and a Doctorate from the University of Southern California where he teaches tuba and chamber music. His primary teachers were William Becker, Lloyd Geisler, Harvey Phillips, and Tommy Johnson.

THERON STANFORD is a senior in mathematics at Caltech. He has played for the last twelve years, studying under Elise Moening for five. He was first chair his senior year at San Marino High School and played in honor groups under Clarence Sawhill and Carmen Dragon. He has played in the Caltech Wind Ensemble and chamber music groups since his freshman year.

SANDRA HORTON is a sophomore astronomy student at Caltech. She began her music studies in her hometown Akron, Ohio. She studied flute for two years until she found her true calling, the French Horn, and has been playing that instrument for eight years. She played in her high school's band and jazz band, a city-wide ensemble, youth orchestra, and semi-professional orchestra, all during her four years of high school. She twice received a superior rating in Class A solo contests. Her first taste of conducting was as the field commander of her high school marching band and leader of the pep band. At Caltech, her musical activities have been in the wind ensemble, chamber music groups, the Caltech-Occidental Orchestra and various groups at Pasadena City College.

JIM BLINN came to JPL in 1977 and became involved with the Voyager Project by producing computer animations of the planetary encounters to give the public a feel for where the real images came from. He is also principle trombone in the Wind Ensemble.

During the 1985 concert series, we started a support group called the Friends of Caltech Instrumental Music. Contributors to this group support activities of the Caltech Wind Ensemble, Jazz Bands, Chamber Music Ensembles, and the Caltech-Occidental Orchestra. Your tax-deductible membership would be sincerely appreciated.
